21. Supervised Learning is has a label, relationship and dependencies between prediction target of input and output.